

Never Give Up.

Whenever I feel really alone, I just sit and stare into the night sky. I've always thought that one of those stars was my star, and at moments like this, I know that my star will always be there for me. Like a comfortable voice saying, "Don't give up, kid."

