

What does this graph show us?

How much did each team spend on their squad?

What is the difference in money spent between the lowest and the highest spenders in the league?

Does spending more have an impact on league placing?

Can you find the transfer income for each team - does this make a difference to expenditure?